

What are the expectations for my child(ren) regarding work completion during distance learning?

Classical Prep has a very specific vision for our scholars. We strive to provide scholars with the tools to excel in higher education and to be moral and intellectual leaders in a self-governing society. To this end, we have established a comprehensive and rigorous curriculum that is well-suited to each grade level. However, due to the COVID-19 event of 2020, student learning at Classical Preparatory School has transitioned to a distance learning environment which brings with it a modified platform as well as an altered expectation for student workload. Our foremost priority is the overall well-being of our scholars and their families. We understand that many families are juggling personal and professional lives with the added duties of facilitating online learning for their children. We know that some families are dealing with first hand effects from this global pandemic.

In order to support families, we have differentiated between work that must be done and work that may be done by students on a weekly basis. Both attendance and grades will be based on completion of “must do” assignments. Individual families may decide whether or not to complete “may do” assignments. Although teachers will provide feedback to students on these assignments, they will not be counted for a grade or attendance. We are always looking for ways to continue learning and are eager to provide you with additional resources for scholars who are yearning for them! With all of this in mind, the adjusted required academic assignments are as follows:

Must Do's:

- Reading Class Assignments/Assessments (as specified by teacher)
  - Includes 20 minutes of reading per day
  - Reading Log, if applicable
- Math Class Assignments/Assessments (as specified by teacher)

May Do's:

**Please note that during Distance Learning, the purpose of “may do” assignments is to enrich the minds and hearts of our scholars. Because grades will not be taken for these subjects, we are aware this will affect the way 4th Quarter report cards look. Please know that the lack of grades for these subjects will not be held against students for the following school year. If you have any additional questions or concerns, please reach out to your classroom teacher.*
