LOGIC & RHETORIC SCHOOL

Progress Reports (CORRECTION)

2nd Quarter Progress Reports will be available to view in the myStudent Parent Portal on Friday, November 14th.

The holiday season is a time for joy, hope, and community—and here at Classical Prep, we want every family to feel that magic. Our Annual Holiday Giving Tree is back, and we’re excited to help Classical Prep families in need experience a brighter, happier holiday.

If your family could use a little extra support this year, please CLICK HERE or visit our website and submit a confidential form through the “Holiday Giving Tree” link by November 9th.

Starting November 12th, anonymous ornaments will be placed on our giving trees in the Meridian and Borealis front offices for generous families who want to share kindness and joy. All unwrapped gifts should be returned by December 10th, so receiving families can pick them up by appointment the following week.

We hope this season brings warmth, smiles, and a little extra sparkle to your family. Together, we can make the holidays brighter for every child in our school community.

Extreme Weather Dress Code Policy

Extreme Low Temps Expected Next Week - Reminder of Cold Weather and Dress Code

With temperatures expected to drop into the 30s and 40s on Monday and Tuesday, we want to remind families to ensure scholars are dressed warmly while still following the approved Extreme Weather Dress Code.

Extreme Weather Dress Code

Scholars will be allowed to wear certain articles of clothing when the low temperature for the day drops below 50 degrees. These items include:

- Solid black, brown, navy, or gray jackets, with or without a hood
- Zippered sweaters, with or without a hood (sweaters need to zip fully, no quarter zip sweaters)
- Gloves and/or mittens in any color
- Beanie hats in any color

Please note that the outerwear listed above should be removed when scholars are in the classroom to maintain a distraction-free and comfortable learning environment. Please label all articles of clothing with your child's name, as we know Florida weather can go from winter to summer in just a few short hours.

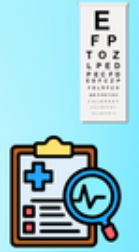

While in the classroom, scholars can still wear navy or black, full-zippered sweaters without hoods.

Thank you for helping ensure our scholars stay warm while maintaining a neat and consistent appearance in accordance with our school dress code.
